

Definition: Work

Work is the energy transferred to or from an object via the application of force along a displacement. If the force F is constant and the angle between the force and the displacement s is θ , then the work done is given by

$$W = F \cdot s \cdot \cos(\theta) \in \mathbb{R}$$

The unit for work is the joule.