

Definition: Modulus Operator

Let $a \in \mathbb{Z}$ and $n \in \mathbb{N}$, we define $x = a \% n$ as the unique number $x \in \{0, \dots, n - 1\}$ such that $a \equiv x \pmod{n}$

TODO: proof that x must be unique