> Definition: Algorithm
>
> Is any well-defined computational procedure that takes a set of values as input and produces a set of values as output. An algorithm is htus a sequence of computational sets that transform the input into the output